Following the most recent government advice we are pleased to be able re-open our studio spaces for a small, limited set of activities. At IMP Studio & Live Ltd we are completely committed to the health and well-being of our staff, partners and clients.

Please view our current policy below for studio sessions prior to booking. IMP aim to be completely customer-centric so please do let us know if you would like to chat anything over before attending or if you have a session booked and wish to postpone.

IMP Covid-19 Studio Session Policy (14.05.20)

If clients are feeling unwell on the day of the session or are exhibiting any signs associated with Covid-19 they should not attend the session and contact IMP immediately.

Hand sanitising points will be set up in reception area and in studio control rooms with clear signage encouraging their use upon entry and exit.

In the event of clients not adhering to Government guidelines the session will be stopped and they will be asked to leave the building. In this event the session costs will be non-refundable.

Clients to limit the number of people attending sessions to the absolute minimum in order to streamline the number of people passing through the studio. All attendee names and contact details to be provided before the session. Only those on the booking form will be allowed access to the building. Non-essential parties to join via Skype/Zoom.

Attendees (including staff) must remain 2 meters apart in line with social distancing measures, and travel to the studio must not be by public transport.

All staff will be briefed thoroughly on hygiene and cleanliness and the increased need to uphold this throughout the studios and in communal areas. Engineers and assistants to commit to washing their hands at regular intervals, particularly when entering, or re-entering buildings.

All staff members to adhere to the government guidelines of isolating themselves for 7 days if they are experiencing a fever or cough, and to inform us immediately if this occurs. Any artist or client displaying symptoms to refrain from visiting the studio.
